Dear Reader

All the articles and publications covered in this index were released by Indicator SA between 1982-1991. Our growing list of titles covers comprehensively the dramatic spectrum of social, political and economic issues facing the new South Africa.

Indicator SA is an independent publisher located in the Centre for Social and Development Studies at the University of Natal. We strive to publish informed analysis by prominent commentators on contemporary national affairs. We reach a wide readership by producing easy-to-read publications which make available original research, data and in-depth commentary.

Indicator SA offers a unique information service to an influential subscriber base. Over the past decade, our publications have won national and international acclaim for providing astute, balanced coverage of change and conflict in South Africa.

All the single issues indexed here may be ordered from Indicator SA by direct mail. An annual subscription service is also available. Our publications are attractively presented, with illustrations, tables, text and easy reader summaries. Each of our fifty issues stands on its own, providing a comprehensive focus on a specific keynote issue or theme.

We look forward to hearing from you soon
