Post 2015 Consultations- “The Future we want”

United Nations conference of Sustainable development (Rio+20) held in June 2012: Looked at 2 main theme: how to build a green economy to achieve sustainable development and lift people out of poverty; and how to improve international coordination for sustainable development. More than US$500 Billion were pledged

The “World we want” consultations focused on 9 thematic areas: Inequalities, Food security and nutrition, Governance, Growth and employment, Conflict and fragility, Health, Education, Environmental sustainability, Population dynamics

Stakeholders involved

Individuals, civil society organizations, local authorities and research institutes to private businesses, foundations, trade unions and professional organizations as well as international organizations as well as member states.
Post 2015 Consultations- “The Future we want

The Report of the High-Level Panel on the Post-2015 Development Agenda (produced on 30th May 2013) highlights 5 Transformative Shifts:

➢ Live no one behind: ensure that in the future neither income nor gender, nor ethnicity, nor disability, nor geography, will determine whether people live or die

➢ Put Sustainable Development at the Core: set out the core elements of sustainable lifestyles that can work for all
Post 2015 Consultations - “The Future we want”

➢ Transform Economies for Jobs and Inclusive Growth: to create opportunities for decent jobs

➢ Build Peace and Effective, Open and Accountable Public Institutions: Freedom from conflict and violence and governments to be transparent, accountable and responsive to their needs;

➢ Forge a new Global Partnership: universality, equity, sustainability, solidarity, human rights, the right to development and responsibilities shared in accordance with capabilities

Objective of the Study/Consultations

➢ To capture and document what marginalised and vulnerable groups want to be prioritised in the post 2015 development agenda based on the realities on the ground;

➢ Feed into the global post-2015 National consultation process initiated by the United Nations to advocate for the needs of marginalised people.

Who did we talk to?: Historically Marginalised people, People living with disabilities, Sex workers,, Some extremely poor communities and Double orphans

What areas did we cover?: Living conditions, public policies and programs and their wish for the post 2015 agenda
Key findings

1. Historically Marginalised People (HMPs):

- Living conditions Challenged by the: Lack of farm land, extreme poverty and hunger causing high school dropout rates, poor housing, early marriage for young girls (between 14 and 16), limited job opportunities due to limited skills, lack of school fees and equipment.

Key priorities for the post 2015 development agenda HMP

- Nutrition and food security
- Descent Shelter (houses providing acceptable levels of protection)
- Skills development and employment opportunities: there is need to empower and equip HMP, especially the youth with employable skills through formal education and technical and vocational training;
- Improve access to health services: the HPM want their insurance entitlements paid on time in order to allow them access health services when sick.
The Voice of People living with Disabilities

- The living conditions of people living with disabilities depend on their level of disabilities and their level of poverty.
- Those who cannot are perceived as huge burdens for their families and relatives.
- They are also left aside by government programs such as land consolidation, one Cow program, crop intensification program because many of them cannot make use of land;
- Financial discrimination;
- Very limited employment opportunities (even for the university graduates);
- Communication barriers between people living with disability with different service providers.

Key priorities for the post 2015 development agenda

- Improving education for children living with disabilities, Improving access to finance, Equal employment opportunities, Improve health of people living with disabilities,
The Voice of Sex Workers

- Reasons pushing women into prostitution are: poverty, lack an income generating activity to support their livelihoods, being orphan, family misunderstanding between further and mother which affect the children, divorced by their husbands
- Many of do not benefit from social protection program

  None is in the bottom 2 Ubudehe categories
- Some experience harassments

Key priorities for the post 2015 development agenda

Right of sex workers: Laws protecting the rights of sex workers as human beings need to be reinforced, Right to benefit from government programs, Skills and employment, Fighting HIV/AIDS amongst Sex workers
The voice of Rwandan orphans

The majority of the orphans we interviewed are still living in the few remaining orphanages. The main challenging issue facing these children is the fear for tomorrow.

Key priorities for the post 2015 development agenda

Education/University: Most orphans' educate fees are paid up to secondary levels. Very few get sponsorship for universities education,

Funds to start income generating activities: many orphans have no collateral to access bank loans to start small businesses,

Mentorship initiatives: most of them expressed the needs to have business mentors to show them how things are done outside there
The voice of the extremely poor communities

The extremely poor communities we interviewed are those in Ubudehe category 1&2

Key priorities for the post 2015 development agenda

- Food security
- Descent shelter
- Access to land and agriculture inputs (fertilisers, quality seeds, extension services...)
- Access to electricity and other basic infrastructure
- Employment opportunities
Conclusion

➢ There are strong links between the needs expressed in the consultations and the Provisions of EDPRS 2 (employment, agricultural productivity, skills development, Graduating from poverty, …

➢ Renew commitments and efforts to Accelerate unfinished agenda

➢ EDPRS 2 to be flexible to accommodate new orientations of the coming development agenda
